

SHANE SELA

Shane Sela has been with Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA), Canada's national plant protection organization, since 1987. In that role he has been responsible for the design and implementation of national plant protection policy for the market access of Canadian forest products, including the development and execution of several system approaches to facilitate the safe trade of commodities.

Since December 2015, he accepted a 2 ½ year assignment to work with the IPPC Secretariat advancing the development of an ePhyto Solution.
